so by default.

The two delegates and two alternates from various precincts will attend the county convention May 7 to elect the county Republican committee for the next four years and pick delegates to the state convention in Jackson June 1.

On the basis of Hancock County's vote for Republican Barry Goldwater for president in 1964, the local committee expects the county will nominate two delegates to the state convention this year, but no one has yet received word of the actual number.

Lee W. Scul, Jr., secretary of the county Democratic committee, said articles of precinct conventions will be given to the newspaper as well as posted at the polling places as soon as formal notice is received from the state committee.

The county GOP committee will meet with the state organization within the next week to iron out all questions about their reorganization procedure, according to David Trebil, secretary-treasurer. Tentative plans are to have a pre-convention meeting where the party faithful will discuss and to map-out procedures.

Stan'laus tuition increased

Tuition fees at St. Stanislaus College, lifted last year from $225 to $275, are due to go to $350 this fall.

The new rate will work out at $35 at time of registration and nine monthly payments of $35. The old rate was $27 at registration and nine payments of $32.

Brother Roland, president of the institution, said yesterday that the school had been reluctant to increase its rates but had no alternative. He said the most lowest comparative rate was in New Orleans where the minimum was $300.

Brother Roland, in a letter to parents, noted that because St. Stanislaus is not an endowed school it does not receive any financial help except from tuition fees. He said the only endowment received by the school is the contributed services of the brothers.

"Without this we could not have made the many improvements in the school curriculum and the campus nor could we have maintained a quality of education second to none in the South," he said.

Brother Roland observed that several outstanding young men may be put in the position whereby their parents simply cannot afford the increase. In this case special arrangements can be made at time of registration and a confidential statement for parents completed and mailed to the school.

"With this we could not have made the many improvements in the school curriculum and the campus nor could we have maintained a quality of education second to none in the South," he said.

He said it was of doubtful value for the port and harbor commission to own a $500 piece of equipment and then rely on the supervisors making a $30,000 bulldozer available to him. "If the dozer is out on another job we will have to wait anyway," Scul claimed.

Also discussed was the amount of land to be cleared at this time. Opinions varied from between 40 and 400 acres with a pump fill to be applied in low areas.

Hill said the commission was to get about $100,000 off its dredging bill, because of limiting the project's scope, and that some of this money could be used for the industrial site preparation.

He said it would cost approximately $50,000 to blacktop the access road but the balance of funds were still available.

Commissioners Gus Elmer and Louis Breaux pointed out it was not so much the purchase that had been made that bothered them but the procedure followed. They said they did not want to waste taxpayers' money by buying a lot of equipment they couldn't use once this job was complete.

Chamber seeks fire relief

A fire at the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis has been declared a total loss by the Chamber of Commerce.

In other matters the Chamber's Industrial chairman Terry Feeney reported encouraging correspondence with industries who have promised to look over the sites in their search for new locations. Feeney also said he had received copy of a letter from Donald Landry, president; county port and harbor commissioners; N.C. Kiefer, Jr., director, Louiville and Nashville Railroad; Industrial Commission of Louisiana, outlining industrial sites available in the county through his commission. Included was a feasibility report on fiber suitability.

Off-street

parking lot set to go

The city's long sought off-street parking lot on Beach Boulevard is just about ready.

Paving has been completed by City Commission Council which signed a contract with neighboring Hancock Park to permit it to agree and assess through the lot plus $14,000 in property from its private lot and three parking spaces of $5,000.

Conflicting price was determined by cost of improvements paid by the city, Commissioners to Utilities J. Cyril Gitterman, chairman. This includes $3,000 for clearing, grading and putting the prime base; $1,152 for 128 tons of hot mix asphalt at $9 a ton; $170 for the roller and labor to complete it; $384.95 for 203 yards of clay gravel at $1.65 a yard; $120 for layout digging by E.J. Lescano, III; $200 to paint parking area and curb slope, and an estimated $350 for fencing in the lot and rear. This totals $7,794.95.

Bill for the engineering survey and lots from Frank Wheat is still to come in and Gitterman said he expects that will conclude the transaction.

After several years of negotiations, the city leased the site from Dr. Jack Adolph Reynolds of Central Gardens, Fla., to the Bank's interest in development is consideration of installing a drive-in window facing its main entrance on Main Street.

Airport ...

The road into the airport is to be built and maintained by the board of supervisors.

In discussions of drainage at the site, it was revealed the Federal Aviation Agency has asked that a natural drainage ditch at the north end of the project be opened for free flow of water into Bayou Marone, involving about 3,500 feet of ditch work.

Although successful in getting the Interstate 10 highway grades lowered to conform to proposed airport drainage, Hill said they did not feel the ditch was necessary for run-off from their construction.

As it was felt the ditch is not vital to the airport Michael Haas, one of the commission's two attorneys, asked Hill to get the highway builders' statement in writing. This he would then take to FAA and ask the item be deleted from required construction.

Hill, reporting on activities for the month, recommended employment of a resident inspector for the airport job as per Michael Baker's contract.

Commissioner Gus Elmer agreed it was a good idea but suggested a system be devised whereby the commission could get greater value for dollars spent.

He asked what good is a resident inspector if his reports were not pursued? Elmer cited the port project as an example where, he said, the inspector reported that dikes were not capable of withstanding the load being imposed upon them by the 24 inch dredge but it took a major dyke failure to prove his point.

Elmer said if inspection reports showed something was not being done according to specifications or in a rough-shod manner, the engineers should discuss with the owner whether or not the job should be stopped.

Hill said he would ask the engineers to make a copy of all resident inspector reports available to him in the future so the commission can be advised of any discrepancies.

Elmer next wanted to know whether Hill should be required to attend all sessions of the

Wizard of Oz is festival theme

The Wizard of Oz, one of America's favorite wonder tales, will be the theme of this year's spring festival at Christ Episcopal Day School.

The festival will open at 2 p.m. on Saturday April 27 on the school grounds.

But the play is to start at 3 p.m. prior and after that time more than 20 booths will be in operation, each decorated in the colors of Oz.

Some 200 students from the school will take part in the two-act play of the story being produced through special arrangement with Dramatic Publishing Co., under direction of Maria Watson, the school's music teacher.

Bay High to undergo examination

A 45 member evaluation board will visit Bay Senior High School April 22 to open three days of investigation.

Led by Dr. James Malley of Department of Education Administration, University of Southern Mississippi, and Wallace Merrill of the State Department of Education, the board will judge whether or not the school can retain its present membership in the Southern Assn. of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Schools in the association have their eligibility checked once every ten years. Bay Senior High was due to be inspected last year but sought and obtained a postponement until housed and operating in its new building.

The inspection team, to stay at Club Lodge Motel, is presently studying self-evaluation material supplied by the school as a prerequisite to the physical examination.

"They always come away with a better appreciation of drama, music, art and dance, and this is important as well as entertaining," she said.

Cancer crusade head outlines aims, quota

There will be approximately 13 cancer deaths and an estimated 25 new cancer patients in Hancock County during 1968, according to figures submitted by Hancock County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Of the estimated 25, one can be saved under ideal conditions if the disease is detected in its earliest and most curable stages.

"For this reason the 1968 Cancer Crusade's slogan has been designated, 'It makes sense to know the seven warning signals of cancer,'" said Mrs. Corale Gex, county crusade chairman.

With a $2,500 quota set for Hancock during the 1968 crusade, volunteers hope to exceed the $3,650.84 mark set in 1967, the unit's banner year. Only $725 was raised in 1966.

Pearlington Pearls

By PAT WILSON

Phone 533-7790

People in Pearlington are still talking about the appointment of Dr. L. C. King, Jr. When you opinion of Dr. King, it has to be affected by the stark drama of Negro Peace Prize winner buried in the grave by a mulatto woman. The Negro community is to be commended for its calm and prayerful acceptance of this modern "American Tradition." To the many observants, may I add still another: "God, if you hear our prayers, may I add one final prayer as written in Calvary in the Coulée, a poem, by Louis Untermyer, "God, if you wish for our love, give us a handful of stars."

People are worried about the compulsory school attendance bill, the stolen automobiles abandoned in the intersection and the business of small towns.

Mrs. R. J. Dulay, manager on the sick list, we hope she will recuperate soon. Her supervisor, H. G. Dean, is recovering from surgery. He should be encouraged by the pride of the community in his supervisor, MARY S. McGehee, who is a 211-star basketball team. We are told that Terry is considered the finest card in coast basketball. We care

We never run out on a sale!

We never advertise a special sale item unless we have an ample supply. Once in a great while, the special is more popular than we imagined. So occasionally we do run out of the item.

But we never "run out" on a sale.

If the item is so "out," just ask the manager for a "RAIN CHECK."

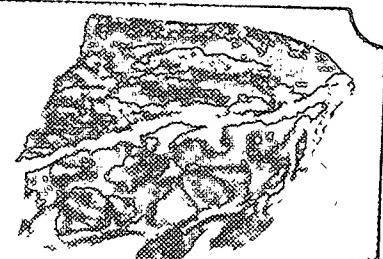

An A&P Rain Check is a certificate that entitles you to buy the item at the same special price, the following week.

We think it is the fair thing to do. We think that shows "WE CARE".

Not every store can care that much. A&P can...and does.

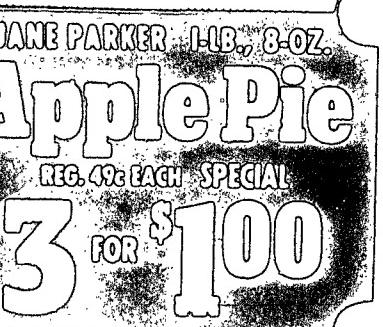

Shouldn't A&P be your store?

SALESMAN JOE CRAWFORD IS SHOWN WITH EMMETT ELLIS AND FRIEND WITH MR. ELLIS' LATE MODEL USED CAR.

Sam Perniciaro suggested that I go to Gerry Lane Chevrolet and talk to Joe Crawford when I told him I had been looking around for a good, late model, used car. I did just that and he helped work out a deal at the price I wanted to pay for just the car I had in mind. I recommend Joe Crawford and Gerry Lane Chevrolet to all of my friends.

Planning Site of new game session

The Mississippi Game and Fish Commissioner will conduct public hearings in three sections of the state this year instead of one as in the past. A spokesman said officials feel this will give more opportunity to listen to the meetings enabling them to offer suggestions on setting game seasons and other pertinent matters.

Schedule is: 1 p.m., May 14, Main auditorium, Woolfolk State Office Building, Jackson; May 15, 10 a.m., Circuit Court Room, Courthouse, Grenada, and on the same day at 4 p.m., County Court Room, Courthouse, Hattiesburg.

Tiger baseballers look for 4th victory

Coach Wimpy Seymour's sensational Bay High baseball team will be seeking their fourth consecutive victory of the season when they travel to Long Beach High Friday for their first night game. Game time is 7 p.m., on the Bearcat diamond.

The Tigers have their eyes on the conference championship this year and are 2-0 in conference play having defeated Stone 8-0 and Pasc Christian 12-3. They also shut out independent St. Stanislaus 3-0. Friday's game will count in the conference record book and Seymour is counting on left-hander Claude Yerbury's fast ball and that bunting ability to distract the Bearcats under the lights. Catching will be Perry Stephens.

Last Thursday on the Tiger diamond, pitcher Anthony Loder allowed Paul Christian only 3 runs on 4 hits while his mate got to losing pitcher Ferrell Pavolini for 12 runs on 8 hits. Paul used blunting strategy well once ahead in the third period.
